Venice and Modernity: Screening Venice
Professor Elizabeth Leake
Summer 2018

Course description: This class will explore the city of Venice as it appears on screen and in real life. We'll watch films from such directors as Andrea Segre, Luchino Visconti and Silvio Soldini, then explore the city ourselves to experience first-hand its importance as the setting for so many cinematic masterpieces. We will also examine representations of Venice in order to identify forms of aesthetic modernism within the specifically Venetian context. How do these modernist narrations engage with their location—imagined or otherwise—in Venice and its environs? Is there such a thing as Venetian regional modernism, and what are its parameters? What are their relations to modernism’s broader national iteration? What about Venice in Vegas? In California?

Requirements: active participation in all class discussions; midterm and final in-class exams. Discussions in English, readings in English or Italian.

Week 1
13 June Introduction to course; Adaptation theories and modernity
15 June Screening and discussion of Silvio Soldini, Pane e tulipani 2000

Week 2
20 June Camillo Boito, Senso 1883
22 June Screening and discussion of Luchino Visconti, Senso 1954

Week 3
27 June Mann, Thomas, Death in Venice 1912
29 June Screening and discussion of Luchino Visconti, Morte a Venezia 1971

Week 4
4 July Midterm exam in class
6 July Screening and discussion of Andrea Segre, Io sono Li 2011

Week 5
11 July Guest lecture, Prof. Michele Alacevich, “The Crisis of Venice”
13 July Discussion of Giuseppe Berto, L’anonimo veneziano and Guest lecture, Prof. Marla Stone, “Fascism and the Biennale”

Week 6
18 July Tiziano Scarpa, Venezia è un pesce
20 July Conclusions and review; Final exam
Supplementary readings for graduate students:
Peter Brook, The Melodramatic Imagination
Jonathan Goldberg, Melodrama. An Aesthetics of Impossibility
Ben Singer, Melodrama and Modernity
Tania Modleski, “Time and Desire in the Woman’s Film”
Mary Ann Doane, “The Voice in the Cinema”
Thomas Elsaesser, “Tales of Sound and Fury”

Additional texts and topics:
Venice, the Moon, and You 1958 (dir. Dino Risi)
Foscolo, Ultime lettere di Jacopo Ortis 1802
Verga, “On the Lagoons”, 1863
Giuseppe Berto, L’anonimo veneziano and film (dir. Enrico Maria Salerno, 1970)
Rossini’s Otello 1816
Amilcare Ponchiello (libretto Arrigo Boito), La gioconda 1876
Marinetti, Veneziella e Studentaccio
Dario Argento, Rosso profondo
Goldoni, La locandiera
Massimo Cacciari: mayor, philosopher
Britten, Death in Venice
Offenbach, first of the Tales of Hoffmann
Byron, Marino Faliero; The Two Foscari; Childe Harold’s Pilgrimage (Venetian Canto)
Hemingway, Across the River and Into the Trees
Three Coins in the Fountain (dir. Jean Negulesco)
Summertime (dir. David Lean)
Casino Royale (dir. Martin Campbell)
Calvino, Città invisibili
Tassini, Curiosità veneziane
James, Italian Hours

Potere operaio and radical literature

Pitza e datteri (dir. Fariborz Kamkari)

Vettese, Venezia vive

Braudel, Venezia

Berto, La cosa buffa

Il terrorista (Dir. Gianfranco de Bosio)

Italiano per principianti (dir. Lone Scherfig)